

(v) Investment companies registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (1940 Act) (15 U.S.C. 80a-1, et seq.); and

(vi) Investment companies, as defined under the 1940 Act, which are not registered under the 1940 Act because they are beneficially owned by less than 100 persons, if the company's sales literature or organizational documents indicate that its principal purpose is investment in securities rather than the operation of commercial enterprises.

(6) A protege firm is not an affiliate of a mentor firm solely because the protege firm receives assistance from the mentor firm under Federal Mentor-Protege programs.

(c) Affiliation based on stock ownership. (1) A person is an affiliate of a concern if the person owns or controls, or has the power to control 50 percent or more of its voting stock, or a block of stock which affords control because it is large compared to other outstanding blocks of stock.

(2) If two or more persons each owns, controls or has the power to control less than 50 percent of the voting stock of a concern, with minority holdings that are equal or approximately equal in size, but the aggregate of these minority holdings is large as compared with any other stock holding, each such person is presumed to be an affiliate of the concern.

(d) Affiliation arising under stock options, convertible debentures, and agreements to merge. Since stock options, convertible debentures, and agreements to merge (including agreements in principle) affect the power to control a concern, SBA treats them as though the rights granted have been exercised (except that an affiliate cannot use them to appear to terminate control over another concern before it actually does so). SBA gives present effect to an agreement to merge or sell stock whether such agreement is unconditional, conditional, or finalized but unexecuted. Agreements to open or continue negotiations towards the possibility of a merger or a sale of stock at some later date are not considered "agreements in principle" and, thus, are not given present effect.

(e) Affiliation based on common management. Affiliation arises where one or more officers, directors or general partners controls the board of directors and/or the management of another concern.

(f) Affiliation based on joint venture arrangements. (1) Parties to a joint venture are affiliates if any one of them seeks SBA financial assistance for use in connection with the joint venture.

(2) Concerns bidding on a particular procurement or property sale as joint venturers are affiliated with each other with regard to performance of that contract.

(3) A contractor and subcontractor are treated as joint venturers if the ostensible subcontractor will perform primary and vital requirements of a contract or if the prime contractor is unusually reliant upon the ostensible subcontractor. All requirements of the contract are considered in reviewing such relationship, including contract management, technical responsibilities, and the percentage of subcontracted work.

(4) For size purposes, a concern must include in its revenues its proportionate share of joint venture receipts.

(g) Affiliation based on franchise and license agreements. The restraints imposed on a franchisee or licensee by its franchise or license agreement relating to standardized quality, advertising, accounting format and other similar provisions, generally will not be considered in determining whether the franchisor or licensor is affiliated with the franchisee or licensee provided the franchisee or licensee has the right to profit from its efforts and bears the risk of loss commensurate with ownership. Affiliation may arise, however, through other means, such as common ownership, common management or excessive restrictions upon the sale of the franchise interest.

§ 121.104 How does SBA calculate annual receipts?

(a) Definitions. In determining annual receipts of a concern:

(1) Receipts means "total income" (or in the case of a sole proprietorship, "gross income") plus the "cost of goods sold" as these terms are defined or reported on Internal Revenue Service

(IRS) Federal tax return forms (Form 1120 for corporations; Form 1120S for Subchapter S corporations; Form 1065 for partnerships; and Form 1040, Schedule F for farm or Schedule C for other sole proprietorships). However, the term receipts excludes net capital gains or losses, taxes collected for and remitted to a taxing authority if included in gross or total income, proceeds from the transactions between a concern and its domestic or foreign affiliates (if also excluded from gross or total income on a consolidated return filed with the IRS), and amounts collected for another by a travel agent, real estate agent, advertising agent, or conference management service provider.

(2) Completed fiscal year means a taxable year including any short period. Taxable year and short period have the meaning attributed to them by the IRS.

(3) Unless otherwise defined in this section, all terms shall have the meaning attributed to them by the IRS.

(b) Period of measurement. (1) Annual receipts of a concern which has been in business for 3 or more completed fiscal years means the receipts of the concern over its last 3 completed fiscal years divided by three.

(2) Annual receipts of a concern which has been in business for less than 3 complete fiscal years means the receipts for the period the concern has been in business divided by the number of weeks in business, multiplied by 52.

(3) Annual receipts of a concern which has been in business 3 or more complete fiscal years but has a short year as one of those years means the receipts for the short year and the two full fiscal years divided by the number of weeks in the short year and the two full fiscal years, multiplied by 52.

(c) Use of information other than the Federal tax return. Where other information gives SBA reason to regard Federal Income Tax returns as false, SBA may base its size determination on such other information.

(d) Annual receipts of affiliates. (1) If a concern has acquired an affiliate or been acquired as an affiliate during the applicable averaging period or before small business self-certification, the annual receipts in determining size status include the receipts of both firms. Furthermore, this aggregation applies for the entire applicable period used in computing size rather than only for the period after the affiliation arose. Receipts are determined for the concern and its affiliates in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section even though this may result in different periods being used to calculate annual receipts.

(2) The annual receipts of a former affiliate are not included as annual receipts if affiliation ceased before the date used for determining size. This exclusion of annual receipts of a former affiliate applies during the entire period used in computing size, rather than only for the period after which the affiliation ceased.

§ 121.105 How does SBA define “business concern or concern”?

(a) A business concern eligible for assistance from SBA as a small business is a business entity organized for profit, with a place of business located in the United States, and which operates primarily within the United States or which makes a significant contribution to the U.S. economy through payment of taxes or use of American products, materials or labor.

(b) A business concern may be in the legal form of an individual proprietorship, partnership, limited liability company, corporation, joint venture, association, trust or cooperative, except that where the form is a joint venture there can be no more than 49 percent participation by foreign business entities in the joint venture.

(c) A firm will not be treated as a separate business concern if a substantial portion of its assets and/or liabilities are the same as those of a predecessor entity. In such a case, the annual receipts and employees of the predecessor will be taken into account in determining size.

§ 121.106 How does SBA calculate number of employees?

(a) Employees counted in determining size include all individuals employed on a full-time, part-time, temporary, or other basis. SBA will consider the totality of the circumstances,
